FOREWORD

One hundred years ago, in 1849, an event occurred which had great influence on the United States and the world. Gold was discovered in the Sacramento valley of California. Men from every walk of life abandoned their business and flocked to the West in the search for gold. These Forty-niners amassed great fortunes, and built up considerably our undeveloped West.

This year, the one hundredth anniversary of the gold rush, there is also a search — this time for the gold in education. Shining brightly in our fields is the glitter of intellect. We, the students of Needham High School, feel that within our walls there has been great opportunity for progress in our education. Because of this we have invited a prospector, one of the original Forty-niners, to step from his world into ours and traverse the pages of this 1949 ADVOCATE. His pick and shovel days have passed, but we are sure that on the following pages he will find something more substantial — the well-rounded school life. He is also watching our own Forty-niners, about to leave Needham High and go into the world. Like their predecessor they have found what they set out for, and are ready to make their marks on civilization through the fruits of their search.

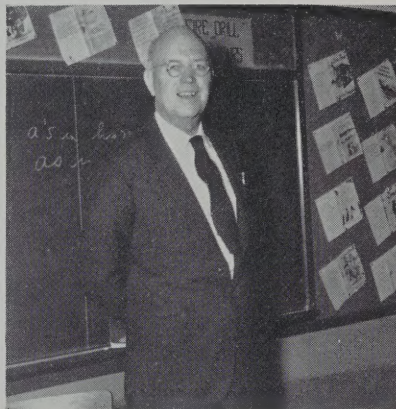

Fabian Bachrach

We, the ADVOCATE staff, proudly dedicate this graduation issue to Mr. Charles E. Benton. For many years he has served as a capable and helpful advisor to the Student Council, and through his efforts the Audio-visual education program has become a regular feature of our classrooms.

The students in Mr. Benton's chemistry and physics classes have glimpsed many new horizons, for Mr. Benton loves and brings to life the subjects that he teaches.

CLASS HISTORY

Could that have been we, that brave little band of workers which ascended this hill in September, 1946, to dig for knowledge with those insatiable brains of ours? It was; and we soon made ourselves known through the Student Council and our trusty class officers, who were Cy Hunt, President; Paul Tomaino, Vice-President; Betty Hersey, Secretary; and Mary Alice Carre, Treasurer. With the help of our class advisors, Miss Sawyer and Miss Guthrie, it didn't take long for us to master lockers, learn the rules and regulations (one way or the other), meet teachers, cover books, sign up for activities, and become used to the altitude.

Then we went to work with our picks and shovels. There was gold aplenty, but we had to remove the top sand first. Strange, muffled sounds emerged from the beginning language classes, puzzled faces adorned Miss Fessenden's room, and English students groaned over grammar. All this mental work was lightened by athletics and other activities. We showed talent in all fields and were proud to see our classmates participating with the upperclassmen in football, field hockey, assemblies, basketball, and ice hockey. The winter soon passed with the shock of our first two report cards. In the spring we finally received our class rings, material treasures. Soon after, the ADVOCATE board elected a group of us to carry on. The worst part of the journey was drawing to a close; in June we stepped up.

After three months of blissful illusion, we set back to work. It boosted our morale to have that wonderful Sophomore class take our place. Our officers were well chosen with Cy Hunt still President; Dick Stewart, Vice-President; Betty Hersey, Secretary; and Dolores Ferrara, Treasurer. The season was marked by many innovations. The Youth Canteen proved successful; the "new look" was hotly debated; we began eating to the rhythm of a new juke box; and the Career Day experiment, sponsored by the Needham Exchange Club, marked the beginning of an annual program and brought our new vocational advisor, Mr. Berry, into the limelight. Then came the ADVOCATE show, "Spotlight on Music," in which many of us participated and which was ably narrated by Dick Stewart. The fall sports gave many of our athletes a chance to display their skill.

But how little we knew of the coming winter with its record snowfall, the struggle through five-foot drifts, the waiting and wishing for the no school bell, the backaches, the question of ski pants on girls — yes, we can laugh now. Nevertheless, life was still busy at N. H. S. The basketball boys were busy winning the Small Schools' Tournament, the hockey and wrestling teams were busy gaining top honors, and the '49ers were busy with their picks and shovels digging for a diploma. Spring came as it always does (although it had us worried), and we did our part as good citizens in the Youth in Government elections. The first Boys' and Girls' Gym Meet for several years was enlivened by such feats as Roy Haskell's balancing act. The time came for us to choose a class photographer, and the next thing we knew we were bidding farewell to the Seniors. On that sunny June day after graduation the full realization of our position struck us. We had reached the top step.

In September, 1948, we entered the school, refreshed and tanned from our summer experiences, renewed acquaintances, compared notes, and then critically surveyed the situation. Remarks of "Aren't they small!" and "Who are the visitors?" were common, but we felt real sympathy for the new class in remembering our own debut. Meanwhile we had a job to do. We chose as our President, Dick Stewart; Vice-President, Eddie Byrnes; Secretary, Betty Hersey; and Treasurer, Mary Alice Carre. Our thoughts soon turned to football. This team was really ours, and our cheers and tears and struggles showed invincible spirit. Through the Student Council we had voted for the new system of electing cheerleaders and turned up with a lively bunch including our seniors, Betty Hersey, Norma Pfeifer, Carol Price, and Ann McGeary. The new bleachers got plenty of use in that season. We were ably represented, too, by the field hockey team, which met some tough competition at the Beaver Country Day play day. Besides these scholastic events we shall not forget the amazing turnover on election day or the sad defeat of our Boston Braves in the World Series. Later, in the beginning of December, the school was shocked by a series of murders. The victims, however, were soon circulating around the school with the other members of the cast of our Senior Play, who were all grateful to Mrs. Beale for her fine job of directing. No sooner had we entered the new year than our Senior Prom was upon us. In all its glory it boasted ninety-nine couples and a perfectly wonderful evening. Having made this a social success, we turned to athletics to wind up our winter sports in grand style. The hockey team ended very near the top, and one chilly night a record crowd, proudly seated in our brand new bleachers, witnessed the defeat of the Wellesley basketball team by our invincible hoopsters, which placed us second only to Milton in rating. The girls also triumphed over the Wellesleyites and needless to say we were all very pleased with ourselves. Soon it was time to prepare for our annual Gym Meet, and Spring sports began to hum. Now there is a breath of anticipation in the air as our great day draws near, for graduation means infinitely more this year. As we pause in our pursuit of the riches of education, we suddenly discover a whole new field of gold stretching far out to the horizon; it is ours for the mining. Leaving the old site is not so easy when we look back upon the good times we've had, but in view of this glorious prospect we are eager to move forward, to make history in a larger sense, with the proud distinction that not for a hundred years will there be another class of "49'ers."

FINIS

REMEMBER

- . . . how big and confusing N. H. S. seemed in September, 1946.
- . . . Miss Churchill's hilarious dramatic classes and our sad farewell to her as the last class to enjoy her wit and wisdom.
- . . . the large number of vets who seemed such "men of the world" to us sophs.
- . . . our first big social triumph, the Hop.
- . . . the Youth Canteen.
- . . . the relief at being Juniors in September, 1947.
- . . . the Mockingbird and Dick Shields as La Farge.
- . . . the snow — could we forget?
- . . . the arrival of the juke-box and resulting nickel shortage.
- . . . the girls in ski pants, after all these years.

JUNIOR CLASS

Junior Class Officers

Fred Muzi, George Twigg, Lillian Salamone,
Phil Christophe.

After surviving their first year as Sophomores, in which they won recognition, the class of 1950 started their Junior year in high gear. Although much of their time is engaged in studies, the Juniors have contributed a great share in achieving a high degree of success in social affairs and athletics on the hill. Under the leadership of their officers and class advisors, many successful activities have been carried out, the most notable of these being the Junior Prom. The class can boast of their large representation on the first team in all sports. Some of the outstanding athletes among the boys are Bob Cowan, Carl Parker, Phil Christophe, Charlie Hasenfus, Jim Holland, and Skippy Tripp. Among the girls there are Barbara Underhill, Janet Lindsay, Joanna Bullard, Anne Steves and Jeanne Carre.

Athletics is but one of the numerous activities about which the Juniors can boast. Their talents are brought out in their participation in the Glee Club, Student Council, and ADVOCATE to mention only a few. The class can point with pride to its accomplished artists in the musical world, for they have vocalists Joan Beals and Sally Lou Vincent, and the instrumentalist Jack McKee, as well as others who have entertained on many occasions.

These are but a few of the highlights of the Class of "50". Without a doubt they will go on next year to win even greater honors and distinction. The Seniors need not worry about the ability of their successors, for the Junior Class has given ample assurance that leadership on the hill next year will be in capable hands.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

James Doody.

Remember in September when there seemed to be small whirlwinds rushing all over the school? Well, as the months have sped by, the teachers have been able to tame them down to only occasional puffs. In other words we have quite a peppy Sophomore class!

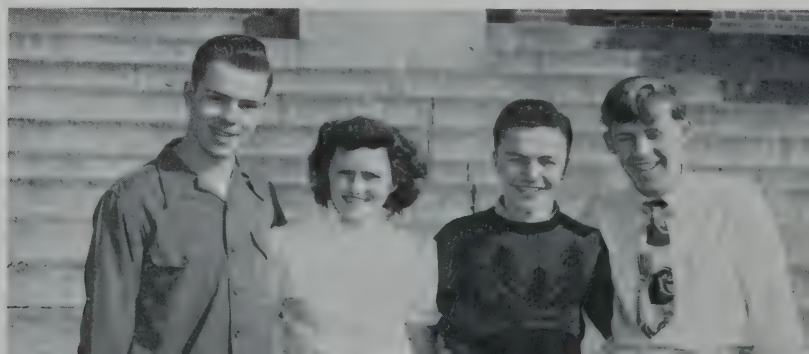

They've joined in everything with a smile and an unceasing supply of energy. This has been quite evident in the field of sports as the fall and winter schedules indicate. Included among these sports enthusiasts are Janet Holden, Phyllis Wye, Dorothy Witte, Martha Jost, Nancy Baker, Marjorie Trowbridge, and Bibi Maruri. From the male viewpoint, Jimmy Doody, Red Thomas, Phil Claxton, Albert Smith, Jack Tenhope, Camey Green, Joe Cerulo, Tommy Welch, and John Lassen.

With the able assistance of the class advisors, Miss Lewis and Miss Harrington, the Sophomores are sure to go ahead. Red Thomas, Bob Huden, Nancy Lee Carter, and Jimmy Doody, officers of the class, are good leaders.

In the next two years this class will be striving towards the best year on the "hill." If they are able to keep their cheery dispositions and progressive ideas, the class of 1951 will go down in the book as another credit to good old N. H. S.

Sophomore Home Room Presidents

R. Thomas, R. Dawson, R. Huden, E. Anderson.

THE LONG STRETCH

CLASS ROOM DOINGS

The wire and tape recorders were used to good advantage this year. Miss Durgin's economics and history classes heard President Truman's inaugural address over the wire recorder. Some of Miss Harrington's French classes made recordings of themselves speaking the language of Monsieur Boyer. The strange sounds emitting from the room were not the shouts of hundreds of little gremlins but the recording running backwards. It's amazing how people sound talking backwards!

The girls learned to do the Samba in the gym classes this year, after Bibi taught Miss Carroll, but Mr. Claxton neglected to teach it to the boys. Needless to say, not much Samba-ing was seen at the Proms.

Along with discovering what X equals and studying the Pythagorean theory, Miss Fessenden's classes learned all about her fascinating nephews and their achievements, as well as hearing the annual tale of her grandfather and his ships. Clever models illustrating loci and polyhedrons were made by the geometry and trig classes.

Every one in the third year French class and many in the other classes corresponded with "filles et garcons" in France this year. Jack Durham was enthusiastic over his correspondent; her name was Simone and she lived in the romantic land of Algeria — sounds interesting! Also, some of Miss Kenney's Spanish students wrote to the lands south of the border.

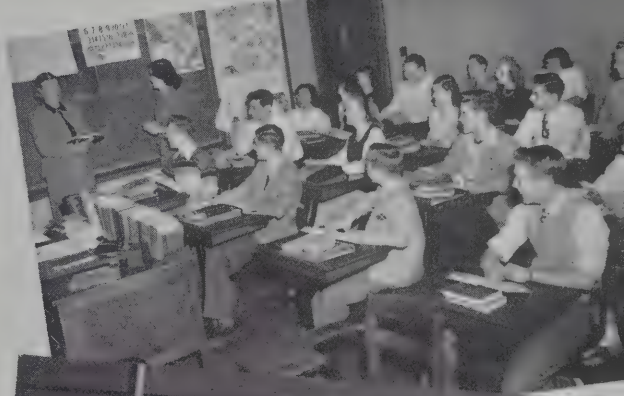

Many brown spotted hands emerged from the lab after the class prepared explosives, but happily the school was left standing and no major mishaps occurred.

Miss Gates's biology classes had many interesting projects to keep them busy this year. Several salamanders came to live in 211, and they put in an appearance regularly to the delight of all. Here's a novel use for the phonograph: the classes heard records of various bird calls from that of the English Sparrow to the rose-breasted grosbeak. Beautiful posters on insects made by the various classes were on display, and some of those creatures looked almost real.

Many good (and not so good) movies were seen this year. A student of French upon graduating from N. H. S. leaves with the impression that France consists of a long coastline covered with beautiful beaches where Frenchmen spend most of their lives sunning and swimming. Some interesting slides of such things as chateaux, fashions, and tapestries, helped counteract this impression though. Many tear-stained faces were seen in the halls after the showings of such films as Mutiny on the Bounty, David Copperfield, and Tale of Two Cities for the various English classes.

Several English classes went in town to the Astor to see Hamlet in the fall. Every one agreed that it was a wonderful way to appreciate Shakespeare. The singing on the bus to and from was enjoyed also.

The chemistry classes were rather shocked to find comic-books on their desks one day. It was then explained that they came close to being text books on atomic energy. They were very interesting as well as informative.

First row: Miss Currie, E. Byrnes, A. McGeary, H. Dodge, J. Carlson, B. Hersey, R. Stewart, M. J. Page, Mr. Benton.
Second row: G. Twigg, T. Manzoni, P. Smith, K. Higgins, W. Rohmer, D. Ferrara, P. Morton, R. Rohmer, L. Salamone.
Third row: F. Muzi, R. Eaton, H. Lenz, J. Bruno, N. Fedel, J. Bullard, J. Grieve, N. Rhynd, N. Carter.
Fourth row: N. Chambers, L. Heald, C. Jones, R. Thomas, S. Joncus, J. Doody, B. Thornton, V. Morton.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Two representatives from each home room have been elected by fellow classmates to represent them in the Student Council. The Council meets once every two weeks. At the first meeting the officers were elected: Jack Carlson, President; Howie Dodge, Vice-President; Betty Hersey, Secretary and Treasurer; and the members were made acquainted with the routine of the Council.

At a later meeting Jack Carlson announced the standing committees for the year. The chairmen are Dick Stewart, finance; Ed Byrnes, sports; Patricia Morton, rules; Dolores Ferrara, bulletin board; Ann McGeary, assembly; and Mary Jean Page, liaison.

This year, for the first time, the chairmen and the officers of the Council were invited by the School Committee to attend a School Committee Meeting and discuss with them matters of present interest. The representatives who attended this meeting realize that it was a very worthwhile project and a big step in the recognition of the Council. Jack Carlson and Dick Stewart were invited back to the committee to discuss the financial situation.

Mr. Benton and Miss Currie are again the advisors. The Council appreciates their interest and time given up for us.

In our search for an education at N. H. S. we have representatives in the Student Council to help us learn in a democratic way the facts of a well-rounded education and the way of life of an ideal American.

ADVOCATE

Every year the cost of putting out an ADVOCATE seems to go up, while money becomes scarcer. Representing the Forty-niners, the ADVOCATE staff would have appreciated, without doubt, a small gold rush on the hill. Nevertheless, as no such fantastic dream ever came into being, some definite changes in the ADVOCATE were obligatory, due to such a large graduating class and insufficient funds. The outcome—a new and different year book. Thanks to Business Manager Paul Tomaino, and his board, enough money was raised to keep the ADVOCATE still in good standing.

Under the leadership of Pat Leahy, Editor-in-Chief, and Patricia Cate, Make-up-Editor, new suggestions were brought forth and put to good use. The idea of the Forty-niners adds humor, while the innovation of the school colors is striking and gives the book personality. The double column of pictures in the Senior Portfolio is also new this year, showing originality, as well as helping to reduce the expenditures to a minimum.

The staff owes many thanks to their advisors, Miss Dodge, Miss Durgin, and Miss Steele. Without their help and advice the ADVOCATE could not be published.

BAND

"Tap-off!" A crash of cymbals and a rolling drum beat — the Needham High School Band is under way.

"Music for all occasions" seems to be the motto of our Band. Throughout the year, beginning with the Saturday afternoon football games and running right up through graduation, the Band provides the school with excellent demonstrations of its members' talents. Also, in addition to performances of the entire Band, individual groups are formed to assist various other local musical organizations.

Monday and Tuesday organization periods plus the Monday sectional rehearsals find the Band members hard at work preparing for their various performances. At these times, golden tones and tones otherwise drift down the corridors from the auditorium, as the musical prospectors refine their selections for public display.

Band highlights of the past school year included Career Day, Parents' Night, and the Boston University Band Festival; also, a number of individuals participated in the 1949 All New England Band and Orchestra.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club, a group of fifteen girls, meets every Tuesday during organization period. The girls are assigned library duty during the meeting for the following week. Their main job, therefore, is to have some member on hand during every school day from eight A.M. to two forty-five P.M. Guided by Miss Steele, their director, the girls are trained during their club periods to know how to find books quickly, and also how to locate information in any of the many books and magazines in our library. To make it easier and more enjoyable for students to use the library, the girls are continually making the book shelves neat, refilling the magazine rack, keeping books available for demand, and catching the reader's eye with colorful bulletin board and book displays.

We were fortunate to have added to our library this year, the books which were presented by the Thirteen Club at the end of last year. There have also been a few other additions of books which are both interesting and informative.

Last January, as a special project, some of the girls volunteered to help gather a list of the professional books in Needham schools, for the benefit of all Needham teachers and parents.

Any Junior or Senior girl who has Tuesday organization period free and who is interested in the duties of a librarian is eligible for Library Club. As yet there has been no other requirement for membership. The officers for this year were Kay Higgins, President; Marilyn Greaves, Vice-President; Doris Fischer, Secretary; Mary Anne Bowlby, Treasurer.

MOVIE OPERATORS' CLUB

Although a comparatively new organization, the Movie Operators' Club has become one of the most prominent groups at N. H. S. The Forty-niners brought from the hills by mule pack their golden nuggets to the world of men. Our Movie Operators' Club through the magic of the modern camera brings the treasure of knowledge from the world back to the hill. By learning to operate and repair the movie equipment, they have greatly helped our teachers and classroom operators.

The club under the able supervision of Mr. Benton meets once a week. Assignments are given to each member concerning the proper treatment and repair of the various mechanical devices in the school. Our prospector's eyes would just pop if he were able to see all the equipment these students can operate.

A few of the things in their care are the moving picture cameras, public address system, wire recorder, the opaque projector, record and recording equipment, the stereopticon, and the dual-purpose projector. The twenty-three members of the group also are responsible for teaching the regular classroom operators how to take care of the equipment.

The club is now working on plans for wire recordings to be used in assembly. At the weekly meetings they are taught the theory of operations of our mechanical devices and are instructed by Mr. Benton as to their proper repair and upkeep. The officers of the group are as follows: President, Bob Roman; Vice-President, Jerry Baker; and Secretary, Jack Tenhope.

FOOTBALL

Tough breaks at Concord took the back-bone out of the Blue and White, after they tied Norwood in the opening contest and lost by the margin of an extra point to Stoughton. After the Concord game the boys could not find themselves until late in the season. Dedham took the locals into camp easily. Natick continued the on-slaughter the following Saturday. Walpole became the first team to be conquered by the locals, but Framingham came to town the next week and trounced the boys in Blue and White! The Lexington game was close, but injuries hampered the Needhamites and Lexington came out the winner. Canton was no match for Needham and fell easy victim to the locals. In "The Thanksgiving Day Special," Needham bowed to the Red Raiders, who outplayed the locals and took home the ball in token of a hard fought victory.

BASKETBALL

The Basketball boys did a grand job this past season, ending Second in the Bay State League and compiling a season's record of 19 and 4, with Dick Stewart and Jimmy Holland the only returning starters. The boys, captained by their brilliant guard Dick Stewart, rolled high in their defense of the Small Schools Tournament Championship until the finals, when news of their failure to be invited to the Tech Tourney upset them. As a result the boys were edged out by Swampscott 31-29. The boys played great ball with Jimmy Holland finishing as high scorer with 285 points, while Skippy Tripp followed with 283. All through the season the hoopsters played well, being the only team to defeat League Champs, Milton. The teamwork of this group was terrific, as they made up for the lack of height with scintillating executions of stellar plays.

HOCKEY

The Needham Pucksters finished in a tie for third place in the Bay State League, and placed five of the six starters on the All Star Teams. Captain Hal Lambert, brilliant Needham Center, made the first All-Star group, while Al Korzon, Skippy Allardyce, Phil Christophe and Pepper Martin, second team All-Stars, with Lambert were the back-bone of the Team; but the services of Steve Eaton, Ken Puleston, Charlie Hasenfus and Cy Hunt were very much needed also. The team played nicely together despite a lack of ice on which to practice. Needham suffered a few tough breaks at the hands of the usual "friendly officials;" nevertheless, the team, buckled down and with good play came out of the play-offs, winning two and losing one, which was better than any other team did in the post-season games.

WRESTLING

Another successful wrestling season at N. H. S. has passed, and it was one in which the team did an outstanding job throughout. Although the over-all season record was only five wins and four losses, the squad finished the year with a really tremendous showing by placing second in the New England Preparatory Schools Championship Tournament in early March.

Led by Captain Dick Kearns, Tony Pippo, Will Jackson, Mike Shufro, Bob Cowan, Henry Heald, Bob Williams and Norm Stockell were the first team men to give a good account of themselves. In the aforementioned New England Meet, Mike Shufro defeated all-comers in the 128-pound class to become the New England Champion in that weight. Bob Cowan and Norm Stockell in the same Meet, finished as runners-up in their respective weights.

If Coach DeFazio can come up with suitable replacements to fill the three vacated places left by Kearns, Heald, and Stockell, the wrestling team should experience next year a season as prosperous as this one was.

FIELD HOCKEY

Field hockey had a good season this year. A large number of girls showed up at the first practice — some old timers and some to whom field hockey was new — to prove to Miss Carroll she had good working material. The girls practised long and hard, and the first game with Wellesley proved the success of their work, Needham scoring one goal, Wellesley, none. The girls went ahead to take all but two of the six games.

An added treat for fifteen of the Forty-niners was the day spent at Beaver Country Day School in Brookline. Playing against three of the top teams present, Windsor, Winchester, and Abbot Academy, Needham did well, but failed to make the extra few points needed to win. The day was a happy one though, for the girls met many new friends and learned more of the good sportsmanship practised throughout the world.

The second team per usual were in there fighting, and it is no wonder only two of the six games played were lost.

The group of Sophomores out for field hockey this year proved large with a total of twenty-five girls.

Juniors and Sophomores, good luck next year!

BASKETBALL

The Seniors led by Dolores Ferrara, who was elected captain for the third consecutive year, played seven games during the season. The won and lost record of the team was not a true indication of its ability, as the Seniors lost six games. They deserve credit for their faithful practising, their enthusiasm, and their everlasting spirit. The team showed their skill in the afternoon practices, but they failed to make a good account of themselves against their rivals. The regulars, Mary Alice Carre, Betty Haffey, and Marjorie Sims as forwards, produced many points, and the guards, Priscilla Parker, Dolores Ferrara, and Kay Higgins, tried their best to protect their team from strong opposition. During the Forty-niners' three years at high school they made a record of nine wins and nine losses.

The Juniors, captained by Barby Underhill, improved steadily throughout the season and finished with a record of four wins and three losses.

The Sophomores chose Janet Holden to act as their captain. They finished the season with a record of two wins and five defeats.

BASEBALL

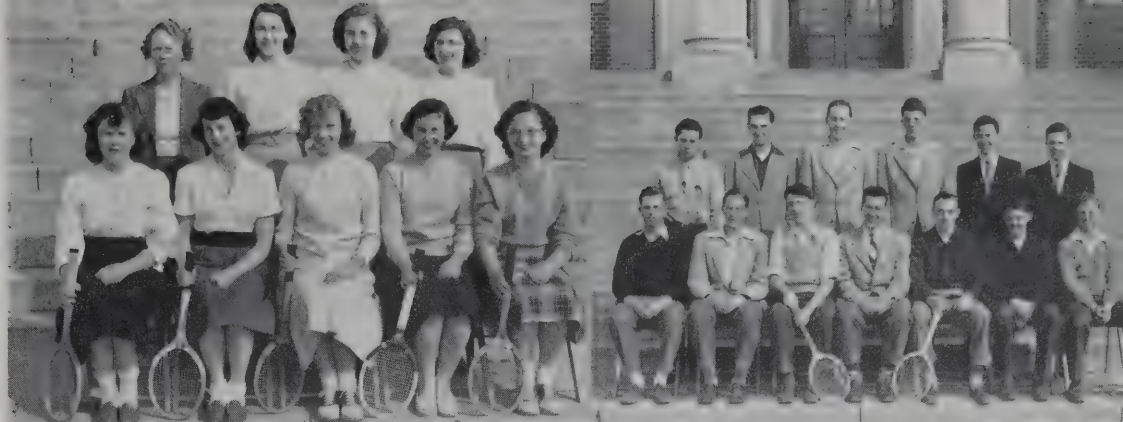

Although the outdoor practices are only beginning at this writing, it is safe to predict that the baseball team will come up with an auspicious season. Coach Small will have back this year the following letter-men from last year: Harry Tripp, Dick Velucci, Bob Gleason, Frank Costa, Herbie Brooks; and pitchers Jim Mills, Dennis Ricciardelli, Jim Holland, and Sammy Alaimo. The team is supplemented by many excellent prospects in the form of Sophomores and members of last year's J. V. Team. Weather permitting, the team should be ready for their first game the eighth of April and for a really outstanding season.

GOLF

Second row: W. Jackson, H. Whiting, R. Williams, F. Bailey.

Pepper Martin and Don McNair are going to be the strength of this year's golf team, but Coach Pelletier has some fine looking prospects, who should round out to form a formidable club. At this writing, the boys are waiting to get out on the greens and work out the kinks, which the off-season has left. Coach Pelletier has produced some "Greats" in the past; we all look forward to the coming season.

TENNIS

There are only two or three letter winners returning to this year's Girls' Tennis Team, but Coach Carroll hopes for a good squad. Captain Ferrara and Pat Cate will be the backbone of the group. There are a lot of good prospects in the Sophomore and Junior Classes, whose contributions should merit a good deal of success. The girls have practiced a little in the gym and should be ready to go places, when the clay courts are in condition.

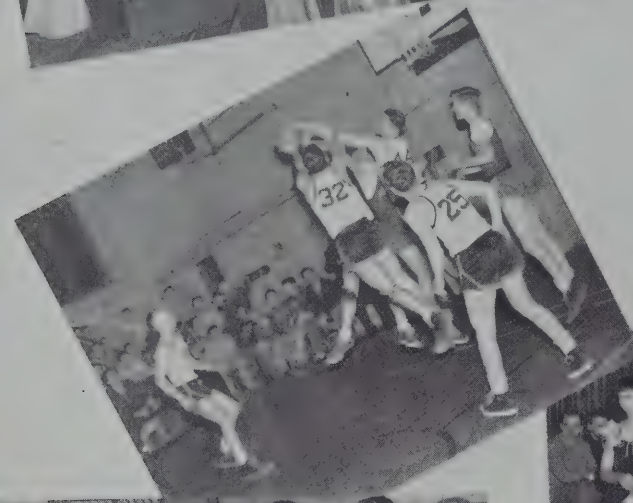

Coach Gorgone looks forward to a bright season, after building up his material of last year. The returning letter-men are John Kennedy, Dave Coon, Dick Eaton, Dick Lomas and Jim Clinton, all of whom should round out into a fine aggregation. There are some excellent looking Courtmen in the other boys out for the team, who should do some pushing for first team sports and spirit the club on to glorious victories, which were relinquished last season to build for the coming years.

TRACK

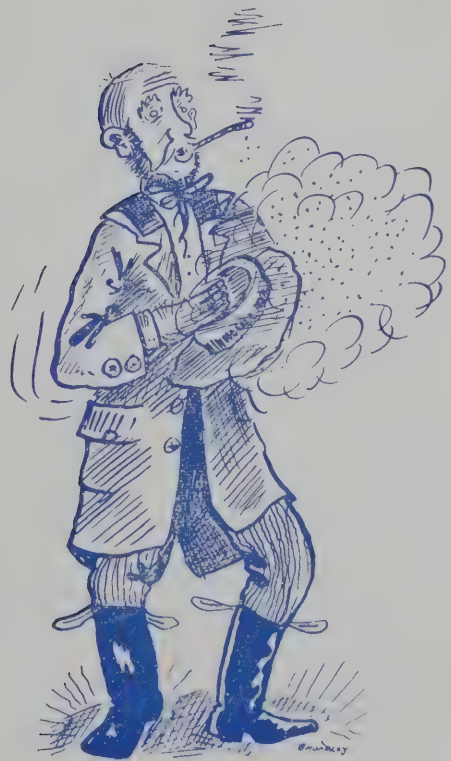

Again this year's relatively few letter-men are returning for Coach Claxton to work with in his building of a track team. The two letter-men back this year are Vance Blake, a good five-minute miler who will without a doubt this Spring lower his previous marks; and Jack Carlson, a powerful shot-putter, who bettered forty feet on many occasions last year. Other experienced men back are Dick Stewart and Ed Byrnes, 880 men; Warren Rohmer and Bob Cowan, dash men; and Jim Brady and Haig Marderosian, shot-putters. These men, along with some very promising Sophomores, should combine to form a winning and successful track team.

*First row: J. Brady, J. Nagel, J. Kearns, W. Rohmer, Mr. Claxton, H. Marderosian, R. Stewart, E. Byrnes, V. Blake.
Second row: P. Claxton, R. Becker, J. Doody, B. Bentley, R. Huden, P. Corson, R. Shields, G. Bellomo, P. Lualdi.

SENIOR PLAY

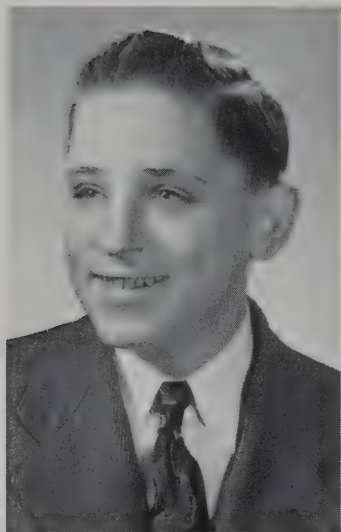

On December 3, 1948, at eight o'clock in the High School auditorium, the actors amongst the Forty-niners presented 320 College Avenue, a play in three acts. A full house was present to enjoy the thrills and chills which were produced in the interior of a Sorority House on the campus of a girls' college. This performance was one of the high lights of the year. Hearty congratulations went to the players after their presentation for their impressive acting. Again this year the cast was under the very able direction of Mrs. Helena Beale.

Which career do you want?

☐ Selling

☐ Accounting

☐ Production

☐ Designing

☐ Merchandising

☐ Executive planning

Right here in Needham you can aim for any one of a wide variety of profitable careers. The place of these opportunities is at Carter's. Here there are many good jobs for beginners—both young men and women. You get sound basic training that can carry you a long way up in a steady, good-paying industry. Important, too, at Carter's you have the chance to go just as far as your own abilities take you.

Think of this. Your pay check can mean much more at Carter's. No commutation tickets. No expensive lunches. And there's something money can't buy: Good fellowship with everyone you work with.

Do this first—Come down to Carter's today and have a friendly chat with Mr. E. G. Nickerson. He'll tell you what you can expect at Carter's . . . give you guidance. You'll have the full story — then you'll be free to think it over. (Frankly, we think you'll want to work for us.) The main thing now is for you to satisfy your own mind by talking with Mr. Nickerson. Do it today by calling for your appointment. The William Carter Company, NEedham 3-0035.

P. S. Of course if you're college-bound, best of luck, and we'll hope to see you later.

LIGHTS!

There's magic in lights . . . add a light here, place a spotlight there, and your portrait takes on the appearance of real form and individuality.

Your Vantine photographer knows how lighting effects can be best used. . . . How easily they can reflect your personality.

Your Vantine photographer knows best how to secure the sharply etched photograph your engraver desires of the important senior year. . . . The victories of the athletic teams. . . . The brilliance of social occasions. . . . The Prom . . . The plays. . . . The debates. . . . The expression of everyday life on the campus.

That personalized portraits by Vantine are important is attested to by the fact that over 300 schools and colleges repeatedly entrust their photographic work to Vantine.
